Foreword

The history of a school year is recorded in the pages of its annual. We, of the staff, have tried our best to record your year at Q.H.S.

Although this volume is the token and remembrance of the Senior Class, it also attempts to be an underclassmen's guide to the future.

As time passes, this book will be the unbreakable link in your chain of memories. If when looking through these pages, you relive the happy days of yester-year for just awhile, our efforts will not have been in vain.

Thus we present this book to you; may your hearts be lighter and happier for the memories it might bring!

Superintendent's Message

Three of the most desirable traits one can develop in High School are those of loyalty, friendliness, and co-operation.

As we come to the close of the 1954-55 school year, it is my sincere hope that your years at Quanah High have been of real benefit to you in acquiring these traits. Whether your stay in Quanah High School has been long or short, it is my wish that your memories of this school will inspire you to greater heights.

May each of you find happiness and success in the years ahead.

Class History

By NORMA GLOVER

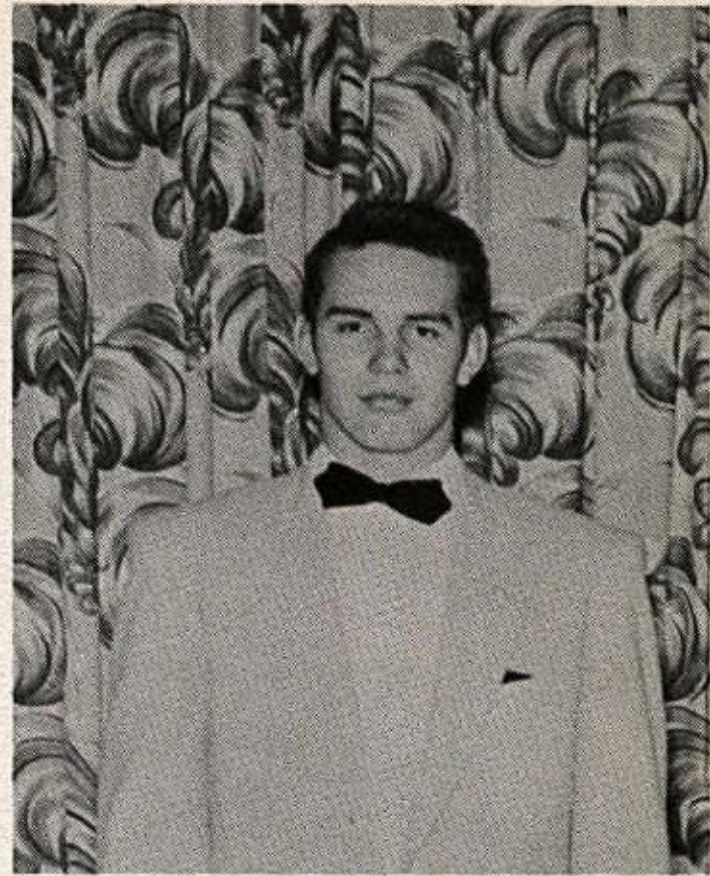

In the fall of 1951, Quanah High became blessed by the arrival of a group of "little angels," now the Senior Class of 1955. They looked about the school in amazement. The most inspiring thing they saw was the Seniors. Exclamations of "Gee! Look! He's a Senior," were whispered whenever a Senior passed by. Of course, now that we were FRESHMEN and almost grown-up, those silly, adolescent eighth graders seemed to be such pests. We surely had a lot to learn!

A little bewildered and afraid of this new thing we were about to undertake, we resolved to do our best. We needed leadership and guidance so we chose Don Wisdom, president; Billy Cummings, vice-president; and Marie Ennis, secretary-treasurer. Our sponsors were Miss Joan Stine (Mrs. Harry Hamilton), Mr. James Welch, and Miss Katherine Marshall. At the end of that year we had begun to see that high school was no "picnic."

Our Sophomore year began, and a group of wiser boys and girls assembled. Now we realized that to reach our goal we would have to work hard and long. To lead us through that year, we chose J. H. Wilkerson as president; H. L. Gossage, vice-president; and Marie Ennis, secretary-treasurer. We added to our staff of officers a reporter, Sherry Adams. To help us over the "rough spots" we were fortunate to have Mrs. Laverne Newton, Miss Jo Sue Wilson, and Mr. L. E. Gray. Several of our boys entered various sports during our Sophomore year. A girls' basketball team was started, and we had several members of our class who played. This was also the year of the Seymour "tragedy."

It seemed as if time had suddenly disappeared and we were Juniors. It was hard to realize that the months had passed so quickly. We were now to learn responsibility and co-operation. Under the leadership of David Baker, president; Barbara Sims, vice-president; and Pat Landers, secretary-treasurer; we proved that we could and would work hard and diligently. Everyone co-operated in making the Junior and Senior Banquet, Junior and Senior Fights, One-Act Plays and other events successful. We were encouraged and helped by our sponsors Miss Katherine Marshall, Miss Gwen Tittle and Mr. E. F. Walker. During our good times at Q.H.S. we began to have hope of finally getting that little roll of white paper called a diploma. How proud we were when on Senior Day we marched down to take the Seniors' place in the front section in the auditorium.

Now, in May, 1955, all too soon, we find that we are about to cross over the bridge into a new world. We are now the Seniors we once looked up at and exclaimed: "Gee, he's a Senior." "Can time really pass so quickly?" we asked ourselves again. We have conquered one phase of our life only to find a greater one facing us. Leading us through this most important year in high school are H. L. Gossage, president; Jimmy Johnston, vice-president; Norma Glover, secretary; and Frances Hamrick, treasurer. We also selected a school reporter, Jerry Martin. Our sponsors are Mr. Clarence Casselberry, Miss Ellabelle Radford, and Miss Katherine Marshall. Our activities for this year: penants, the Cakewalk, the Senior Carnival, Senior Play, Senior Day, and Graduation, will remain in our hearts as cherished memories. May each of us look back at his teachers, classmates and friends in Quanah High and say sincerely, "God bless you for helping me to attain my goal in life."

Senior Class Poem

By DOUG ROARK

Through this toilsome world, alas!
Once and only once we pass;
We want to go out with our heads erect,
We want to deserve all men's respect.

Yes! There is a time that we must face,
That we shall see success or even disgrace.
Our remembrance of yesteryears,
Bring happiness along with sorrow and tears.

Upward, on bended knee, we daily look,
And draw our wisdom from the book of books.
Study and play has put us awirl,
For soon we will be turned loose in this strange world.

Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As everyone of us sometimes learns,
And many a failure turns about
When he might have won, had he stuck it out;
Don't give up, though the pace seems slow—
You might succeed with another blow.

Success is failure turned inside out—
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt—
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit—
It's when things seem worst—Rest if you must—
But don't you quit.

Senior Class Will

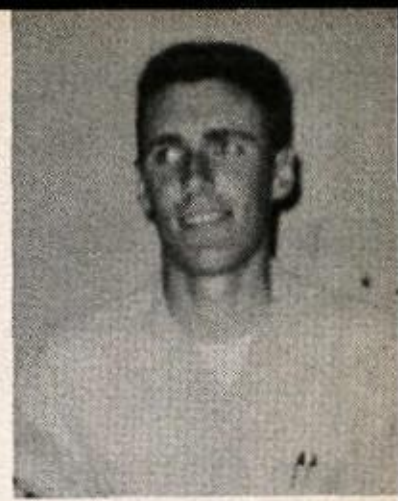

By GEORGE BOYNTON

We, the Senior Class of 1955, of Quanah High School, of the town of Quanah, of the county of Hardeman, of the state of Texas, being of sound mind, sturdy body, strong will and generous heart do devise, give and bequeath our few, but valuable belongings in this, our first, last and only will and testament, hereby making void all wills made by us at any time previous to this date.

- I, Sherry Lynn Adams leave to find Clyde and a ring, I hope.
- I, David Gene Baker leave my filter tipped fags to Charles Hatcher.
- I, Doyle Dwayne Berry leave Dawn until the picnic is over.
- I, Charlie Wayne Berry leave my interest in Jackie P., but not for long.

- I, Jerry Don Brandon leave my quiet pickup to Jimmy "Curly" Bradford.
- I, James Franklin Bryant leave my quiet ways to Mike Magee.
- I, William Dewey Carver leave Q.H.S. at last.
- I, Lynn Carlos Clements leave my ability to deliver groceries to Clyde Wilkerson.
- I, Thomas Wayne Cokendolpher leave my pleasant smile to Truman Houk.
- I, Raymond Taylor Cullar leave my brain to Earl Brown.
- I, William Thomas Cummings leave in a cloud of dust.
- I, Margie Fay Collins leave my car in the hands of Luke Neely.
- I, Shirley Ann Dake leave "Buck" to find Keith Kelly.
- I, Marion Donald Davis leave my ability to play the outfield barefooted to Dwaine Hargeshimer.
- I, Alvin Dillard Deel leave my mild temper to Marie Blair.
- I, Charles Wayne Denison left.
- I, Lillie Wanelle Duncan leave to join Charlie White.
- I, Flora Marie Ennis leave my place on the annual staff to anybody who will enjoy it like I did.
- I, Norma Lee Glover leave with Leon.
- I, Henry Lane Gossage, Jr. leave my red hair to James Ownby.
- I, Jimmy Dale Grisham leave for Charline's and a good old-fashioned chicken dinner.
- I, James Anthony Hall leave the drag strip open to Frankie Lamberton.
- I, Frances LaNelle Hamrick leave my dependability to Marcia Sims.
- I, Omagene Havens leave to do my housework.

- I, Bobby Hilton Young leave my fancy hairdos to Jackie Chambers.

Senior Class Prophecy

By JERRY MARTIN

The time is four in the morning on April 3, 1993. My partner, Chester Rockholt, and I are on night-watch out of Certain-Teed. It was a calm night, nothing unusual happening when our messenger boy, Layton Mayes, rushed into my office with an important message. It was from the Superintendent of Quanah Public Schools, Billy Mayfield.

Billy's message sounded important and stated that he must see me immediately.

Upon arriving at the school building I immediately proceeded to the office of Superintendent Mayfield. Billy's secretary, Shirley Dake, greeted us and said that Billy was expecting us. Upon entering the office I found Billy with his chief advisor, J. H. Moore, pacing the floor. I soon learned that one of the marked fire extinguishers was missing, and it was believed taken by a member of the 1955 graduation class. This was a very serious matter and I decided to begin my search immediately. As we were leaving the school I noticed a familiar face sitting at a desk in Civics class. It was Lloyd Walker, still trying to pass that Constitution Test, poor boy. After talking to Lloyd for awhile, we got in our new 1993 Hallmobile, which was designed and built by Jimmy Hall, a member of our old graduation class, and took off in search of the fire extinguisher.

Before leaving Quanah we stopped at a service station to re-fuel and who should be running the station but David Baker and Don Wisdom, two very successful business men from our class. While we were at the station, State Patrolman, Billy Cummings, stopped in on his way to the county jail with a couple of drunks. Billy was also in search of the fire extinguisher and told us that he had had little success.

Our first stop was Las Vegas, Nevada where we went to the Morton and Young Used Car Lot to question the owners, Ken Morton and Bobby Young. However they knew nothing about the missing fire extinguisher, thus our search continued.

That night we went to the beautiful Hotel Sahara, which was owned by Lynn Clements, a former classmate of ours. Upon entering the dining room, the head waiter, Charlie Berry, showed us to our tables just as the floor show was starting. The main attraction of the show was Jimmy Johnston and his all-girl band. Jimmy had organized the band all by himself with girls he had met here and there. In his band were several members of our old class. There was Frances Hamrick, who played a mean bass horn; Jackie Phillips, the drummer; and Sandra Ingle on the guitar. However, we didn't doubt the honesty of these and began to look around for more suspects. At that time I noticed Kenneth McNabb who had made a fortune in the manufacture of underwear. Kenneth was known around Las Vegas as the King of the Undie World, quite the hood, we understand. Kenneth seemed to be guilty of everything except the theft of the fire extinguisher. Also there we noticed Leon Trolinder, the wealthy oil man, and his wife Norma Glover Trolinder having a night on the town. At this time the next act came on; it was a song and dance number starring the "Four Hags and a Stag," which was composed of Ileta Poole, Sherry Adams, Edna Pitts, Omagene Havens, and Robert Quisenberry. What a show!

After seeing the floor show Chester and I decided to try our luck at the gambling tables, for which Las Vegas was famous. We decided to go to the Ennis casino, which was operated by Marie Ennis, another successful citizen from our graduation class. Marie was assisted in her work by Dave Jenkins, one of the slickest card sharks in the business today. However my partner and I soon found out we lacked the necessary funds for this type of entertainment and decided to leave. On our way out a cigarette girl came running up to us; it was Betty Jolly. She said she had heard from a reliable source, mostly "Hot Rod" Hogue, that the fire extinguisher had been seen in Tuscon, Arizona.

While on our way to Tucson we stopped off at the famous Grisham Observatory to see if Dr. Jimmy Grisham knew anything. Jimmy said he knew nothing about the matter, but he would ask his assistants Donald Davis and Doug Roark about it as soon as they returned from the moon. Just think—Roark at the moon, I always knew that Boy would go places.

Leaving the great scientist to his work, we journeyed on. Our next stop was a ranch just outside of Tucson. It was owned by Barbara Sims; we questioned Barbara, but she hadn't seen the fire extinguisher. However, she said her hired man, H. L. Gossage, might know something about it. But H. L. failed to help us any.

Upon reaching Tucson, we learned that a Rodeo was in town. We decided to attend that night, but first we had to have something to eat and we had heard that Roger Waldrip was running a candy store here and sold the best taffy on the market today. We finally found the store but Roger was out on business. However his assistant J. H. Wilkerson seemed to be running the business pretty well. That night we went to the Arena to witness one of the wildest Rodeos we had ever seen. The show featured such stars as Charles Denison, Tommy Cokendolpher, and Jerry Brandon along with that glamorous trick rider, Wanell Duncan. The guest star of the show was Alvin Deel, famous Hollywood western star. But no show would be complete without clowns and this Rodeo had two of the best in the business; they were Eddie Pruitt and Charles Straughan. What a show they put on. But the fun couldn't last forever; soon the show was over, and we had to continue on our search.

Next stop, Hollywood, California. Quannah was now well represented in Hollywood by such stars as W. D. Carver, claimed by many critics as a second Marlon Brando; David Moore, successor to Percy Kilbride, and George Boynton, who has taken the place of Pinky Lee on TV.

Upon arriving in Hollywood we went directly to the office of Producer-Director Doyle Berry who had gained much fame with that great mystery story of his "Dial D for Dawn." Doyle was a very busy man now days, but he invited us to a party he was throwing that night and said we could question some of our suspects there, as he was expecting several of his old school chums. We accepted his invitation and left to prepare for the party. On the way out of the studio we met James Walter Johnston, who was an assistant Script Boy. Jimmy had worked his way up from the Palace Theater in Quannah to his present height.

That night we arrived at Berry's Penthouse; we were shown to the guest room by Doyle's butler, Billy Wayne Sellers. There were many famous celebrities there including Charlie Richardson, author of many top notch Joke Books, Taylor Cullar, noted Comedian; Margie Collins, famous recording star; and Pat Landers, new rising western star. During the party I noticed someone slumped over in a chair; it was Francis Johnson reading one of Richardson's Joke Books.

After the party was over, we checked our list and discovered we had questioned every member of the '55 class except Roark and Davis, who were at the Moon in Grisham's Rocket Ship, so I guess we'll never know who had the fire extinguisher.

● Almost a quarter of a century has passed since USECO published its first school annual. As we review those pages of yesteryear, a pleasant thought comes to mind—on some tomorrow this, the nineteen hundred and fifty-five edition, will take its place in your heart as a pictorial history of the "good ole' days."

We know this book will increase in value with the passing of each year, and are honored to have played a part in recording it.
